Fourth Annual Black Silk Sale

"Women have to have such year-in-and-year-out staples as black silks, what's the sense of letting them have these materials at a saving?" That's the underlying sentiment in many stores--and a chief reason why so many alleged sales in this and other lines are a snare and a delusion. That, and deliberate pretense. Not the Coulter way. This store shall at all times be helpful, shall save for you wherever it is possible. Taking the stocks through, you can save a fourth to a third on needed black silks of unassailable quality during this Annual Mid-Summer Sale of ours--the fourth we've held. Every yard is of thoroughly dependable quality--not "seconds." The comparisons below show their actual worth and selling prices.

covered by this report has shown a steadily increased divergence in general prices of the American consumer in favor of foreign markets at the expense of the American consumer. The American prices are going up and the foreign prices showing a marked decline.

"Still more remarkable is the comparison of the absolute level of prices (as distinguished from their movement) of the United States and foreign markets. The statistics obtained for these computations were secured by a representative of the bureau, who visited the more important European oil-consuming countries and secured accurate and representative data.

It should be noted in comparing absolute prices of American with foreign markets that a difference of about 1 cent per gallon must be allowed for on account of the difference in the quality of oil sold in the two markets, water-white oil being the basis of the American prices and standard white the basis of foreign prices. Water-white oil is worth about 1 cent more than standard white. Therefore, 1 cent per gallon should be deducted from the difference between American prices and foreign prices.

"The following summary statement shows the averages of the monthly prices for the periods specified after deducting transport costs and duties:

Period	Average United States price (June, 1906)	Average German price (June, 1906)
Excess of United States price (June, 1906)	1.30	1.30
Average United States price (June, 1906)	1.30	1.30
Average United States price (June, 1906)	1.30	1.30

"The Standard's argument is further demonstrated by the fact that during 1904 and 1905, a period when the Standard claims that prices for illuminating oil in different parts of the world were actually taken large quantities of oil in Russia to supply its trade in Europe and the Orient. During 1904 and 1905, the Standard claims that it had a half barrel of illuminating oil for distribution in European and Asiatic countries. It has secured large quantities of oil from Russia and has established refineries there and in other countries for refining foreign crude.

"It is perfectly evident that the Standard has not always been concerned with maintaining the export trade in American illuminating oil, but has been solely interested in maintaining its own domination in the markets of the world, frequently at the expense of the United States.

"It is true that during 1904 and 1905, the Standard met new competition in foreign markets, but its new competitors were largely a group of concerns which drew a considerable part of their supply from the United States.

"Having a monopoly at home, it has charged such prices as it could there, and the American consumer has been left to pay the full price of the Standard's oil. Meeting competition abroad, it has given the foreign consumer enormously low prices, and the American consumer has been left to pay the full price of the Standard's oil.

It has secured large quantities of oil from Russia and has established refineries there and in other countries for refining foreign crude.

"These remarkable discriminations in favor of foreign markets at the expense of the American consumer have been called forth by the Standard's apologists of the Standard. They have attempted to create the impression that the recent decline in prices of American illuminating oil abroad was necessitated by an oversupply of that product. They have also claimed that there has been severe competition against the American product from the oils of Russia and other foreign countries, and that the reductions in export and foreign prices were necessary to retain the business of the Standard.

"Neither of these arguments is well founded. There was no oversupply of illuminating oil during the years 1904 and 1905, which time foreign prices were being severely cut. The exports from the United States during 1904 were less than in 1901 and 1902. The exports from the United States during 1905 were less than in 1901 and 1902.

HUNDREDS DROWN AND PROPERTY LOSS IS GREAT.
Score Are Killed in Earthquake on Island of Kozushima and Native Islets in Panio-Ostmar. Athenian Brings Tides of Nature's Rage.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
VICTORIA (B. C.) Aug. 11.—Heavy loss of life is reported from Central Japan because of floods, according to advices received by the steamer Athenian. Several hundred were killed in all, and many injured. The property loss was very great.

A score of lives were also lost on Kozushima, an island off Izu, in an earthquake which destroyed many houses, and sent the islanders to the hills in panic. At Takigawa the ground subsided twenty feet, and a large number were killed and injured. The Japanese government has ordered the steamer Tenshinmaru with relief supplies.

In Hiroshima province the floods were most severe. The banks of the Sano River gave way and the villages of Yano, Nakanaka and Okukita, in Aki province, were flooded and the bridges washed away, and many drowned. The city of Kuruma suffered considerably. The Putagawa and Sakagawa rivers were cut off from the sea, and the district west of the river was cut off from Kuruma.

Great damage was also caused by a typhoon which struck the coast of Kyushu. Several lighters were sunk in Kobe harbor, and the steamer Natsushima was wrecked. The typhoon also caused a large number of deaths and injuries. The Japanese government has ordered the steamer Tenshinmaru with relief supplies.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dared by his playmates to climb the trestle of the Public Service Company's trolley line, a twelve-year-old boy was shocked and burned to death with several hundred persons looking on, unable to render him aid.

Two chums of the boy bantered him to rob a bird's nest under the iron trestle. When he had reached the trestle he waved his hand, which came in contact with a live wire, and the boy suddenly pitched forward. He was dead when aid arrived.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

In anticipation of a rejection of its offer, the Southern Pacific is already preparing to put a force of engineers to work.

TERRORIZES HIS FAMILY.
Mother and Children Driven from Home by Crazy Man—Police Take Him After Struggle.

After a short chase and a struggle, two patrolmen captured O. J. Lackey, of No. 1021 East Fifty-fourth street, last night and sent him to the City Jail on the charge of insanity. At the point of a gun, Lackey drove his wife and four children out of their home and threatened to kill them if they returned. After waiting for some time and finding that Lackey was unchanged in his determination, the patrolmen rushed out of the house. For a short distance they followed him and finally captured him. Lackey offered but little resistance as he had disposed of his revolver.

About a month ago Lackey was captured at his home by officers after a violent struggle. He has threatened the lives of his wife and family. Lackey was released by the court upon the promise of his son of his first wife to return to San Diego, to take care of him.

The police say that Lackey's son took him to San Diego, but allowed him to return to Los Angeles after a short time. Lackey has been ill for some time. His condition is not serious but at times he becomes violent. Mrs. Lackey says that in this way it fits he will kill her and the children.

BRUTAL ACT CHARGED.
Injured Boy Claims Conductor Threw Him from Car Steps Without Reason.

Arthur Alvarado, a fourteen-year-old lad, whose home is at New High and 10th streets, was severely injured near Second and Main streets last night when an angry conductor of a Brooklyn-avenue car threw him from the rear steps. He sustained concussion of the brain, and several cuts on his head. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital.

A chorus told the police that he left a chorus of boys in a Main and 10th streets and jumped on the Brooklyn-avenue car. The conductor, he claims, threw him from the rear steps and allowed him to fall upon the pavement. The boy maintains that he was not given an opportunity.

PROBABLY THIRSTY.
Manuel Romies was arrested on Saturday night on a charge of having broken open a can of beer and stolen several cases. While the officers were investigating he was found hiding behind a car.

ANOTHER CAR VICTIM.

the new public drinking fountain near the corner of East First and Chicago streets was formally dedicated yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large and interested crowd of spectators. The exercises were under the direction of the Boyle Heights Loyal Temperance Legion. Large delegations were present from this organization and also from the W.C.T.U.

The fountain is built of artificial stone blocks, is about four feet in diameter and eight feet high, and its establishment is largely due to the efforts of Benjamin Walton of Long Beach, who put in a similar fountain in his city over a year ago. It is on the edge of the sidewalk on Chicago street, a few doors south of the old brick and plastered house on East First street and is now the property of the city, having been accepted by Mayor Harper yesterday.

The fountain is not entirely completed and it would not have been presentable yesterday had not he donor, Benjamin Walton, worked as a stonemason on the job, because the mason employed to lay the stones got drunk and would not have finished the fountain in time for the dedication.

The exercises began at 2:30 o'clock, when the young members of the Loyal Temperance Legion assembled at the Boyle Heights Presbyterian Church on North Chicago street and marched two blocks down the street to the fountain, singing as they marched, and waving flags and banners. The programme was as follows: March and song, Temperance Legion; Twenty-third Psalm, Legion; Legion pledge and salute;
address, Benjamin Walton; recitation, Alexander Carroll; address, Mrs. Lucy Blanchard; song, Temperance Legion; remarks, Rev. A. Inwood; address,
Mrs. Hester Griffith; vocal duet, Mrs.
Sarah Payne and Mrs. Griffith; presentation of fountain to the city, Miss Genevieve Hughes; response, Mayor
A. C. Harper; song, Temperance Legion; benediction.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

BREVITIES.

Bitten by Dog.—H. Holmstrup, a native of Denmark, whose home is at No. 368 East Fifty-third street, was bitten by a dog in Pasadena yesterday. The canine was in charge of several ladies, when it suddenly charged on the man and bit him on the leg. The wound was cauterized at the Receiving Hospital. Expressman injured.

W. D. Crave of No. 1019 South Pasadena avenue was injured yesterday in a runaway accident on Alameda street near Ferguson alley. Crave sought to drive in front of a moving train. He escaped the train but collided with an ice-cream wagon and was thrown from his seat. He sustained several severe scalp lacerations and a sprained back. He is an expressman, aged 61 years.

No Coffin Trust Here.—Local coffin dealers say they do not fear the threatened action on the part of the Department of Justice in proceeding against a coffin trust. In this city there are two concerns which manufacture coffins in direct competition with eastern concerns. The local firms say there has been no agreement with the easterners over the price of coffins. There has been no advance in the price of coffins on the Coast for five months.

Wealthy Mexicans Here.—A party of wealthy Mexicans from Chihuahua, arrived in the city yesterday and secured apartments at the Alexandria. In the party are Louis Terrazas, son of the late Mexican president, and his wife, Mrs. Julia Mae Creel, wife of Juan Creel, a member of the famous family of diplomats. Quintero, a banker, and members of his family. The party will remain here for several days.

Going North for Trial.—Henry Post, indicted in the north for impersonating a secret-service agent at San Jose, did not go to San Francisco, as expected. The certified copy of the indictment was not received. Until its arrival Post will be held prisoner in the County Jail. He was released last week after serving six months on conviction of impersonating a Federal employee and was at once arrested at the termination of his imprisonment at the request of United States officers in San Francisco.

Steel Clothing.—A number of small burglaries were reported to the police yesterday. Several houses along Alameda street were entered and articles of clothing stolen. E. O. Osterhout, No. 125 East Third street, reported that his room had been entered and suits and clothes taken. Britton Ross complained of a thief he said had entered his room No. 220 South Main street and had stolen a pair of trousers. The Los Angeles Warehouse Company reported that their place had been entered on Friday night but nothing of value had been taken.

Medical Law Attacked.—The case of Dr. J. D. Greenall of Long Beach, a chiropractor, whose conviction of violating the state medical law in the Justice Court was appealed to the higher court, appeared before Judge Emilio S. Michelson. Miss Philaetha S. Michelson, asked to submit a brief on the appeal, and also make a short oral statement. The hearing went over until next Saturday. Attorney Michelson has raised a number of interesting points in her brief and the constitutionality of the state law is attacked. The holds that any class legislation that imposes burdens upon certain schools of healing is both un-American and illegal. The regular practice of medicine and the chiropractors are awaiting the final outcome of the case.

LEAVES TRAIL OF BAD CHECKS.

DAPPER DOCTOR DEPARTS AFTER "DOING" SAN DIEGO.

Many Merchants in the City of Bay and Climate Would Like to Find Dr. Hans Muller—Lived Like a Millionaire and Was Given Unlimited Credit.

Dr. Hans Muller, the missing Santa Fe Hospital physician, who disappeared Thursday, has left behind him a trail of unpaid bills, for which he offered bogus checks in payment. During his short stay in Los Angeles he cut a wide swath, dined at good hotels, and enjoyed many auto rides in the best machines he could hire.

From the Owens Auto Company he rented a big car and had himself conveyed to San Diego. He instructed his chauffeur to drive him to the Coronado Hotel. Only the best of everything would do for Muller. His auto bill was $120. He paid in a check on the Wells Fargo-Nevada National Bank of San Francisco. He has no funds in that bank with him.

At San Diego the hand of Muller was traced upon an abundance of worthless paper, and merchants there would like to meet the dapper young man who has such a pleasing address. He fled almost every one he met. He was careful to settle his score. He struck the city of bay and climate. The Coronado hotel was Muller's headquarters. He visited the city and on one excursion his machine, he said, broke down miles outside of town. He is said to have taken a team of horses and driven to the scene of the alleged wreck. He had returned the night. The heavy stable man is looking for his horses.

Before leaving the Coronado, Muller was careful to settle his score. He preferred to pay in a check. The management was only too delighted to accommodate a man who traveled in state in handsome cars. The auto man introduced Muller to other auto rental agencies in San Diego. He favored them with checks.

Morgan Ross of Hotel Coronado came to Los Angeles yesterday in an effort to locate Muller. Muller's friends. He did not succeed, and will continue his search today. Mr. Ross was at the Alexandria last night and expressed his disgust of the transient accorded the San Diegoans by the flashy-dressed young physician.

"He came to the hotel in style," said Mr. Ross. "He drove up with a chauffeur in a big auto, paid his auto bill like a professional, and engaged rooms with us. We had confidence in the man as he seemed to be wealthy. He did not get us for very much, less than $100, perhaps I must confess that it was as much as everybody had faith in him."

He did not know where he has gone. He left San Diego Friday night. He was going to bring back his stranded auto. He did not return and lives in a look-out house. He sent the machine he came to San Diego in back to Los Angeles. I believe he has gone to Riverside."

Mr. Ross says the citizens of San Diego, who are mourning the departure of Muller, really take pleasure in his arrest if possible. Mr. Ross will ascertain to his own satisfaction the value of the check he holds. If it is only worthless paper he says he will swear out a warrant for Muller's arrest.

DRINKS AND IS HELD UP.

Man Knocked Unconscious in Main Street Saloon and Relieved of Money and Watch.

With blood streaming from half a dozen wounds on his head, John Doyle, a pattern maker 40 years old and a resident of Long Beach, was found by police officers wandering along Main street, near Second, last night. The man had been held up, beaten and robbed in a saloon on South Main street.

After his wounds had been dressed at the Receiving Hospital, a fruitless effort was made to find his assailants and to learn in what saloon the crime had been committed. Doyle had been drinking heavily and could not talk intelligently.

From his rather incoherent story it appears that he went to the saloon with a man who asked him to indulge in intoxicating liquors. Later the man asked him to go into an adjoining room. There two men attacked him and he was rendered unconscious by a blow on the head from behind. He lost $10 in gold, some silver and a watch. Doyle was hustled out of the saloon by a "bouncer."

NEIGHBOR SUSPECTED.

Oil-Soaked Rags Found in Vacant House—Rumor of Lease to Negroes Stir Neighborhood.

When the police investigated an incendiary fire which caused $200 damage to a vacant house at No. 1318 Winfield street, last night, they found strong evidence, it is said, that the fire was set by a member of a family living near it.

It is reported that the neighborhood had been made indignant by a rumor that the house was to be leased to a colored family. Threats are alleged to have been made openly that if the negroes occupied the premises, they would be driven out by the whites.

When the fire department arrived, about 8 o'clock, oil-soaked rags and papers were found in various rooms on the first floor. These had been set on fire and the doors locked. The alarm was turned in by a pedestrian, who saw the blaze as he was passing.

The police will make public the full results of their investigation, but state that a man was seen to leave the house before the fire broke out.

MAY TEST THE LAW.

Hotel Men Object to Paying Income Tax When Other Lines of Business Are Exempt.

The hotel men of this city may shortly bring a test case in the courts to determine the constitutionality of the income tax law, as applied to hotels, especially provided for by ordinance.

R. F. Tinsley of the King Edward, said yesterday that he believed the tax is unjust and probably illegal. Why should a property tax. Why should the additional burden of an income tax be imposed on us? Several of us went before the Finance Committee the other day and presented our claims for exemption. If no action is taken a number of the hotel proprietors are in favor of taking the whole question into court. It is claimed that hotels need more fire and police protection than other lines of business. We seldom see a policeman unless he comes to inquire about some man.

In case of fire, of course, we appreciate the fire work done by the fire department. I think any hotel man is

The Police Frequently Make Arrests There But Do Not Molest Proprietor—Riot of Immorality and Drunkenness—Fight While Band Plays.

THE Bismarck Café, in the basement of No. 439 South Main street, which is called "The Bucket of Blood" by its habitués and by the police, was the scene, Saturday and Sunday nights, of drunken debauchery among girls of tender ages, painted women and men. Into this immoral pesthole, young girls are enticed nightly to drink and listen to a band concert. Although the police make ar-

A plate of beans was placed on the table in front of a customer, and then any kind of drink could be purchased. Last night the same scenes were enacted as on the previous night. The café was filled during the early part of the evening. The usual number of fights took place, and several girls were seen drinking beer at the tables.

Another step that marks the progress of the San Joaquin Valley in the path of development was taken Tuesday evening when a party of Los Angeles business men boarded the Owl at the Arcade, bound for the new town of Corcoran and the fertile lands of Kings and Tulare counties. It was a jolly crowd that alighted at Corcoran early Wednesday, in spite

John Edwards is proprietor of the "Bismarck club," his "café," in which only sandwiches and beer are served in the way of eatables, is fitted up in frontier style. The floor is covered with sawdust. With an ordinary garden rake the filth is cleaned out once a day. In the center of the room is the band platform. An arched partition is placed across the basement on each side of the platform, which practically divides the place into two apartments. One apartment is reserved for young girls and women and their escorts. It has an entrance through an alley on Winston street. In the other apartment is the bar. There are several tables in front of the bar where men lounge around to meet some young girl or woman.

Late Saturday night there were four girls, whose dresses were above their shoe tops, in the beer hall drinking beer. One of the girls was taken there by a woman, who is a habitué of the place. Two men eagerly sought their acquaintance. They were introduced. Soon all five were seated at a table. One of the young girls refused to drink, saying that she had never tasted beer. After coaxing she slipped at the beer occasionally. For nearly an hour the five were seated at the table. When they left, the young girls were unsteady on their feet. The two men accompanied them.

HER SHAMELESS STORY.
The woman who took the girls to the place said that both of them were working as domestics and were looking for a good time. She met them on the street and took them to the beer hall. "I am getting tired of this life," she said. "For several weeks I have been out of work and have lived at 'The Bucket of Blood.' If you stand in well with the manager down here you can get all you want to eat and drink. They will feed you if you get a bunch coming down with you every night for a time." "I worked at a hotel with one of the girls who came down with me tonight. I don't know the other, but she is working in a private family. I simply met them on the street and we strolled down here. I met those men here several nights ago. They seemed to be quite anxious to take those girls home."

were separated by waiters before any blows were struck. In another part of the room the men clashed again. J. A. Salas, who lives at No. 413 East Fourth street, Salas was seized and held until a policeman was called. Soon after he was taken to the Police Station, his partner, Edward Wilson, was arrested by a detective. They confessed to entering a room at the Hotel Marlborough at Fifth and Main streets earlier in the evening. They stole a revolver and some money. The revolver taken from Salas was the one stolen. The men are charged with burglary, and Briggs will file a complaint against Salas, charging him with assault with a deadly weapon.

Before Salas had been dragged from the café, another fight started. A beer glass was thrown across a table and struck a man just above the eye, cutting a deep gash. The injured man lunged at his assailant. The table was overturned and glasses smashed on the floor. Several young women screamed and got out of the way. The men were separated. The injured man was taken out the back entrance, and the other fellow was forced to pay for the glass.

FIGHTS, BUT BAND PLAYS.
A row between two women caused some disturbance for a few minutes. The band played on, however, without interruption. The women's shouts could be heard across the room from time to time. One woman was taken out by a waiter and the other again joined in the revelry.

Within the past ten days three girls under 18 years of age were taken to the Receiving Hospital from the "dive" for treatment. One of them declared that she had been enticed there by a young man whom she met on the street, and had been drugged. The physicians could find no trace of poisoning. The other patients were unconscious from drink. They were in the hospital for half an hour here they were released. They had been taken to the café by two young men who had induced them to drink. The girls were employed as domestics in private families, and pleaded with the officers to shield them, so that they would not lose their positions. The police are aware of the criminal practices which are carried on in this place. It is known that young girls are taken there and led astray.

seems hopeless. He disagrees with Heman in regard to the customs of the people. He says the Koreans have higher morals than any of the Orientals. The women are not slaves, he asserts. Cynn further said that there are five railroads in Korea, although Heman mentioned only one in his interview.

of the short hours of sleep and hastily concluded breakfast at Bakerfield; it was a jolly crowd that was hustled into the rigs a few minutes after their arrival at Corcoran, and a tired but happy and enthusiastic crowd that returned long after dark, after a hard day's drive through miles of alfalfa, wheat, hay and sugar beet lands, interspersed with promising young vineyards and orchards, gushing artesian wells and storage reservoirs.

The experiences of the day proved an eye opener to those of the party who beheld the country for the first time, and many were the exclamations of surprise at the wonderful productivity of the soil. Spades were industriously applied at every halt, but in each instance the subsoil and molasses discovered were of an assuring nature. Stops were made at the ranch houses along the way, where every body drank from the gushers, sampled fruits, invaded fields, inspected dairies and subjected the rancher to a rapid fire of questions.

The fact that many members of the party made purchases before departing, all indicates the rapid development of the valley once its great possibilities become more generally known. The valley is just arousing from its slumber and awakening sufficiently to attract the attention of the settler in each instance the subsoil and molasses discovered were of an assuring nature. SAD ENDING OF CAMPING TRIP.
A WELL-KNOWN CONTRACTOR GOES TO GREAT BEYOND.

Stricken With Apoplexy in Mountains, He Is Taken to Redlands Hospital, but Never Recovers Consciousness—Remains Will Be Brought to This City Today.

John H. Chick, the well-known contractor, who was stricken with apoplexy while camping in Green Valley and was removed to a Redlands hospital, died there yesterday morning. The remains will be brought to this city today. Funeral arrangements have not been completed as yet.

Mr. Chick, whose home was at No. 1410 Wilton Place, had been camping with his wife in Green Valley, not far from Fresno Park. He was suddenly taken ill and lapsed into unconsciousness. Mrs. Chick and a woman friend started down the mountain with the stricken man. Dr. Burke of Highland happened to meet them and went with them to Redlands. Chick was taken from the rough camp wagon, in which the first part of the trip was made, given medical attention and then taken in an automobile to Redlands. He died without recovering consciousness.

hour. This was not in accordance with the rules of the company, and Kellogg took the matter up with Superintendent of Motive Power Small. Mr. Small made a ruling whereby green hands were to receive 22½ cents, more experienced ones 25, and full-fledged boiler-makers 27½ cents.

HELPERS EGGED ON.
"In this way a man was encouraged to try and better his condition. New men who came to us from other shops and were competent helpers were paid the highest rate at once, while less expert ones received one of the lesser sums according to their abilities. There was some dissatisfaction on the part of the poorer class of helpers which was, I believe, encouraged by some of the boiler-makers. There are constant changes among the helpers and the trouble-makers endeavored to give the impression that, as the better men left, others would be put in their places and kept at the minimum wage.

"Such an idea was absolutely without foundation and the men knew it, but it gave them a chance to stir up discord. The matter came to a head last June, when I was short of helpers. In working on boilers it is our practice to have four helpers for each boiler-maker. We were running with work there were not helpers enough to give each boiler-maker four, and it was necessary to get along as best we could.

CAUSE OF STRIKE.

ment should hold good with the helpers was refused, however, as the unskilled men are of necessity, put upon the lighter jobs and were there no inducement offered to improve himself and in time the shops would be without men qualified to help in the more particular branches of work.

BLAME POLITICAL AGITATORS.
The charge is openly made both by Carter and other officials in the employ of the company, that the walkout was engineered by political agitators in the ranks of the boiler-makers' union who led the present state of affairs. Carter states that many of the men who walked out are expert mechanics and good men, but that the agitators were trouble-breeds many of whom no longer were in the employ of the company and thus had nothing to lose.

The whole matter simmers down to the question as to whether the Southern Pacific Company and its officials or the boiler-makers' union shall control the shops of the company. Carter has been backed up in every instance by Superintendent Small after the most searching investigation and it now remains for Mr. Hartman to decide what further action shall be taken. Carter states that the present state of affairs can go on for several days yet without serious inconvenience to the company, though ultimately it will be necessary either to reach a settlement with the strikers or to put other men in their places.

That the quarrel has gone farther than the strikers ever intended that it should seems certain, but they have taken their own course and the company is now placed in a position where companies is practically out of the question. That the great mass of the striking boiler-makers would countenance violence is thought unlikely, but what the agitators may induce the malcontents and the rasher helpers to do, no one can say.

FEMININE INTRIGUE FAILS.
PLOT TO KILL MARQUIS ITO
CONCUBINE OF KOREAN EMPEROR AIDS REVOLVERS.

Incident Connected With Deposing of Ruler of Hermit Kingdom Is Related by American Eyewitness, Who Describes Scenes During Disturbances in Seoul.

VICTORIA (B. C.) Aug. 11.—An account of an American eyewitness of the disturbances at Seoul was brought by the steamer Athenian.

There were intrigues, attempts to assassinate the Korean Cabinet, hurried massing of Japanese troops at the palace gates, attempts to murder Marquis Ito, attacks on Japanese police and soldiers and incidentally the shooting of Herr Brinkmeyer, a German.

The Athenian brought news of the intrigues of Lady Om, the notorious concubine of the Emperor, who supplied funds to the society known as the "Fort Hope," the members of which, disguised as merchants and coolies waited at the palace gates, with arms hidden under their bosoms, with intent to kill the Korean Cabinet and Marquis Ito. Japanese detectives discovered the plot, and wholesale arrests followed and martial law was proclaimed.

Col. Yi Hwita, commander of the troops, was arrested and the powder magazines, ammunition supplies, etc., were seized and reinforcements of Japanese troops hurried to the city.

The Thirteenth Division was ordered from North Korea to Seoul, and the Twelfth Division sent from Japan was in several warships that arrived at Chemulpo, Fusan and Genzan.

Mr. Jones, formerly United States Consul at Daini, describes many incidents of the Korean tragedy. He said: "In front of a new building near the south gate was a horse and drag, the driver, a Japanese, lay dead from a bullet wound, his face upturned.

"There was a Japanese shot, the keeper lying on the mats, covered with blood and badly wounded. From an alley running north to Greatfield street came a Japanese with a mob chasing him. He was caught and the mob pounced on him. Mr. McCormick of the Associated Press and I rushed in, dispersed the mob and rescued the Japanese. We found this man lying unconscious on a pile of stones, badly wounded, and took him to McCormick's riksha and hurried him to the Japanese hospital.

"At Chong In we found police boxes turned up and much blood on the ground. There the soldiers of nearby barracks broke out, led by a man who was mounted, and attacked the police. There were many fatalities. Several men were trampled to death. A man of destruction seems to have seized all Seoul.

A member of the Japanese Cabinet, interviewed by the Nichi Nichi, said annexation was not opportune now, but occasion will probably shortly present itself for further extension of Japanese power in Korea.

Jacob Costello, held as an accomplice, will next be tried. It is not likely he will be convicted.

The assassination of Col. Chaves was one of the most cold-blooded crimes in the annals of the Territory. He had left Santa Fe, his official residence, at noon on the day of the killing, for Progresso, Torrance county, where he was on an extensive ranch. About dark, as he was sitting at the supper table with his son, James Chaves, and a friend, he was killed by a bullet shot fired from the outside through a window. The bullet struck him just below the shoulder blade and passed through the heart. He staggered to his feet when the bullet struck him, then fell to the floor, dead.

The assassin, who had stolen up to the window on foot, made his escape in the darkness on horseback. Investigation revealed the fact that a horse had been tethered a few hundred yards from the scene of the tragedy and the footprints of a man were later discovered leading to and from the window through which the fatal shot was fired. A small fortune has been spent since the murder toward running down the assassin, but apparently to vain purpose.

PISTOL DUEL ON STREET.
Principals Are Wounded by Vengeance
Fight of Italians

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P. M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—A pistol duel on the street last night resulted in the fatal wounding of one of the principals, the serious shooting of the other and the wounding of a woman.

Leopold Bertuccelli and Giuseppe Passaglia, Italians, were partners in a macaroni business over a year ago but quarreled and separated vowing vengeance on one another.

Today as Passaglia was entering a grocery store Bertuccelli came behind him, cursed him and fired a bullet at his former partner. The bullet struck Mrs. Mary Mullins, a bystander, in the elbow. A moment later both men were firing at one another. Passaglia fell with a bullet in his brain and he will die. His last shot hit Bertuccelli in the stomach and the latter is at a hospital in a serious condition.

RICH AUTOIST ARRESTED.
Prominent Easterners Are Victims of Anti-speeding Crusade of Small Town.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M.)
NEWPORT (R. I.) Aug. 11.—Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Earl J. Rainey, Louis A. Brugiere of New York, Dr. Christian R. Holmes of Cleveland and the chauffeur for Mrs. C. M. Clyde of Bryn Mawr, Pa., were all victims of the automobile speeding crusade being waged by the town officers of Middletown.

With the exception of Messrs. Vanderbilt and Brugiere all pleaded guilty and paid the fines which were imposed. Mr. Vanderbilt and Brugiere pleaded not guilty and evidently intend to test the law.

The sole reason for delaying the dash until next year was the contractor's failure to have the new boilers installed by June 1, as agreed.

The assassin, who had stolen up to the window on foot, made his escape in the darkness on horseback. Investigation revealed the fact that a horse had been tethered a few hundred yards from the scene of the tragedy and the footprints of a man were later discovered leading to and from the window through which the fatal shot was fired. A small fortune has been spent since the murder toward running down the assassin, but apparently to vain purpose.

PISTOL DUEL ON STREET.
Principals Are Wounded by Vengeance
Fight of Italians

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P. M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—A pistol duel on the street last night resulted in the fatal wounding of one of the principals, the serious shooting of the other and the wounding of a woman.

Leopold Bertuccelli and Giuseppe Passaglia, Italians, were partners in a macaroni business over a year ago but quarreled and separated vowing vengeance on one another.

Today as Passaglia was entering a grocery store Bertuccelli came behind him, cursed him and fired a bullet at his former partner. The bullet struck Mrs. Mary Mullins, a bystander, in the elbow. A moment later both men were firing at one another. Passaglia fell with a bullet in his brain and he will die. His last shot hit Bertuccelli in the stomach and the latter is at a hospital in a serious condition.

RICH AUTOIST ARRESTED.
Prominent Easterners Are Victims of Anti-speeding Crusade of Small Town.

NEWPORT (R. I.) Aug. 11.—Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Earl J. Rainey, Louis A. Brugiere of New York, Dr. Christian R. Holmes of Cleveland and the chauffeur for Mrs. C. M. Clyde of Bryn Mawr, Pa., were all victims of the automobile speeding crusade being waged by the town officers of Middletown.

With the exception of Messrs. Vanderbilt and Brugiere all pleaded guilty and paid the fines which were imposed. Mr. Vanderbilt and Brugiere pleaded not guilty and evidently intend to test the law.
